Expanded ban on death penalty for intellectually disabled people in California

The California State Legislature extended the ban on capital punishment for intellectually disabled people

Louis Linel

Read full Article
Saudi Arabia reviews death sentences issued against children

According to the Saudi Human Rights Commission, the death sentence issued against Ali al-Nimr, Dawoud al-Marhoun and Abdullah al-Zaher will be reviewed in accordance with reforms decreed in the Kingdom in April on juvenile criminal justice.

Louis Linel

Recent US federal executions raise ethical and political issues

Two more federal executions were carried out at the end of August in the United States of America. The abolitionist movement in the United States denounces human rights violations, challenges the cost of the death penalty in this time of crisis and even opposes its disrespect for tribal sovereignty.

Louis Linel
17th & 18th September | 2 day public debate termed as the Inter University Human Rights Competition: "Access to Counsel: A Matter of Life or Death"

Organized by The Foundation for Human Rights Initiative (FHRI) under the current project "Securing the abolition of the death penalty in Africa and in countries at risk" - hosted by Mountains of the Moon University - Uganda